

Economic Outlook for Midsized Manufacturers on the Rise

*This table compares the difference in opinion that small and midsized manufacturing executives had about their own immediate economic outlook. The first numbers are taken from the January 2009 Prime Advantage Group Outlook Survey, and the second numbers come from the August 2009 Prime Advantage Group Outlook Survey. In each instance, executives were asked for their opinion on revenue expectations over the coming six months, as compared to the past six months.
